Dates: June 20 – July 8

Glacier Bay National Park and Preserve is seeking interested lateral transfer candidates for a GL-9, Permanent Full Time, Law Enforcement Ranger position. This is a required occupant position within the Bay District at Bartlett Cove.

The incumbent serves as a Law Enforcement Commissioned Ranger responsible for performing law enforcement duties including detection, investigation, apprehension, detention, and prosecution for violations of NPS, State, and other Federal regulations as authorized. An exceptional opportunity awaits the individual with an adventurous spirit, a strong work ethic, and a passion for natural resources protection. Glacier Bay is a 3.3 million acre park in southeast Alaska that offers unique Rangering challenges in a varied landscape with ocean coastlines, deep fjords, tidewater glaciers, temperate forest and snow-capped mountains. Incumbent serves as a Law Enforcement Ranger for the more than 2 million acre Bay District of Glacier Bay National Park and Preserve. The district includes the marine waters of Glacier Bay and surrounding wilderness, the park's remote Outer Coast and marine waters, and the Bartlett Cove developed front country area. Traditional ranger skills are a must (EMS, SAR, Structure and Wildland Fire, Incident Management, and HAZWOPER) as well as an interest in a varied job assignment. Patrols are conducted by motorboat, kayak, vehicle, aircraft, and on foot. The Rangers of the Law Enforcement, Security and Emergency Services Division at Glacier Bay are asked to complete numerous and various tasks; a good attitude and a willingness to be a team player with all other divisions is essential.

The Bay District Ranger Station is adjacent to Park headquarters located at Bartlett Cove, at the southern edge of Glacier Bay. The neighboring community of Gustavus offers the best of bush Alaska: two stores, one gas station, and a host of seasonal services that peak during the visitor season. School is K-12 with an overall size of approx. 50 students. There is a wealth of outdoor activities available including boating, kayaking, fishing, hunting, snowshoeing, and cross country skiing. Glacier Bay is a temperate rainforest so the weather can be very rainy but temperatures are mild compared to the rest of Alaska. Bartlett Cove and Gustavus are accessible only by boat and air. The nearest large city is Juneau, the capital of Alaska. Juneau is accessed from Gustavus by either the Alaska Marine Ferry, air taxi services year around, or commercial jet service during the summer months.
